ASEAN new solar panel manufacturers

Overview

The arrival of factories backed by Chinese solar heavyweights such as Trina, Longi, JA Solar and Jinko Solar, among nearly 20 other competitors, has transformed Malaysia, Vietnam, Thailand and Cambodia into world-leading production and export hubs for a range of solar components. Will Southeast Asia become a solar PV manufacturing hub?

Fabby added that Southeast Asia has the potential to become a solar PV manufacturing hub, supplying both domestic and global demand. Currently, seven Southeast Asia countries already have manufacturing capacity in various stages, with a total annual capacity of 70 GW of solar module production, with Vietnam supplying half of this capacity.

Is Southeast Asia ready for solar energy?

Positioned near the equator, Southeast Asia's solar irradiance levels was up 10 per cent in 2023, highlighting the region's potential for solar energy advancement. Southeast Asia's total solar and wind energy generation have surged from 4.2 terawatt-hours (TWh) in 2015 to over 50 TWh in 2022.

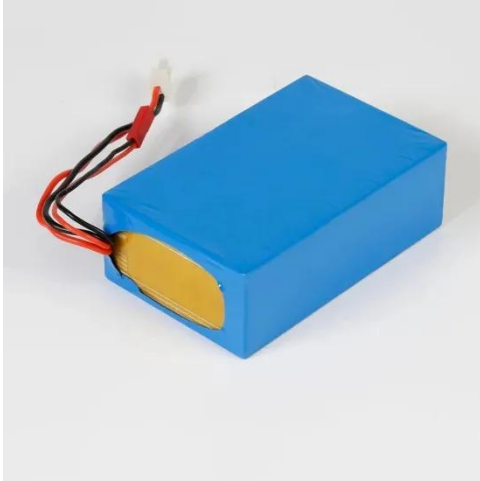

Can ASEAN develop solar PV manufacturing capability?

Fabby Tumiwa, the Executive Director of Institute for Essentials Services Reform and the Chairman of The Indonesia Solar Energy Association said that ASEAN must establish strong cooperation in developing solar PV manufacturing capability.

Will solar energy be a mainstay in Asean's energy mix?

In Malaysia, the introduction of the Net Energy Metering and tax allowances serve as catalysts for solar PV installation, while government-led tariff adjustments further propel the adoption of solar energy. These concerted efforts show how solar energy is set to be a mainstay in ASEAN's energy mix for decades to come.
