Differences between solar and inverter brands

Overview

What is the difference between a regular and hybrid solar inverter?

The main difference between a regular solar panel inverter and a hybrid inverter is that a hybrid inverter is compatible with solar battery storage. Hybrid inverters not only convert Direct Current (DC) to Alternating Current (AC) like a regular inverter, but they also convert in the opposite direction (AC to DC) for use with batteries.

What is a solar inverter?

A solar inverter, or solar panel inverter, is a pivotal device in any solar power system. Solar inverters efficiently convert the direct current (DC) produced by solar panels into alternating current (AC), the form of electricity used in homes and on the power grid.

Are your solar panels a good inverter?

Your solar panels are only as good as the inverter they're connected to. This often-overlooked component is vital for optimising energy harvest and ensuring the long-term reliability of your solar system. With Australia's diverse climate, choosing an efficient and robust inverter is crucial.

Which solar inverter should I Choose?

Battery compatibility: If you plan to install solar battery storage system in the future, choosing a hybrid inverter may be the best option. Warranty & lifespan: High-quality inverters come with 5-12 years warranties, with some brands offering extensions.
