Japan solar container lithium battery energy storage project

Overview

Why is battery storage important in Japan?

Once operational, the battery storage systems will help balance supply and demand on the national power grid. Battery storage is viewed as an important part of Japan's decarbonization plans. Storage systems like BESS help keep power systems stable, especially when more electricity comes from solar and wind sources.

Which battery energy storage projects have been selected for 2024?

Battery energy storage projects in Japan have been selected through the Long-Term Decarbonisation Power Source Auction for 2024.

Will Saft supply a battery energy storage system in Fukushima?

Download the Press Release Tokyo, 12 June 2025 – Saft, a subsidiary of TotalEnergies, has been selected by leading Asian renewable energy developer Gurin Energy to supply a battery energy storage system (BESS) for the latter's major energy storage project being developed in Fukushima, Japan.

What is Japan's first energy storage project?

In 2015, we started Japan's first demonstration project covering energy storage connected to the power grid in the Koshikishima, Satsumasendai City, Kagoshima. This project is still operating in a stable manner today. One feature of our grid energy storage system is that it utilizes reused batteries from EVs.
