Does Palau rely on fossil fuels?

As a small island developing state, the Republic of Palau sought to wean itself off its dependence on fossil fuel for power, which accounts for 99.7% of the country's power generation. To address this issue, Palau invited Solar Pacific Energy Corporation (SPEC), Alternergy's solar developer, to develop a clean, renewable energy source.

What is the energy supply in Palau?

Renewable energy, including grid-connected solar PV systems at the Capitol Complex and the airport, contributes almost 3% to Palau's total energy supply (Energy Office, 2013). The Energy Office (within the Ministry of Public Infrastructure, Industries, and Commerce) is Palau's energy regulatory entity.

What role does the Energy Office play in Palau?

The Energy Office in Palau has initiated several renewable energy projects throughout the country over the past decades.

What is Palau's energy policy?

Palau endorsed the National Energy Policy (NEP) in 2010, which calls for improved institutional arrangements, increased energy efficiency, and the promotion of renewable energy. An Energy Sector Strategic Action Plan (ESSAP) was also implemented to execute the NEP.
